The Mother Lode league basketball schedule reaches a "crucial" stage tonight when Ione high school invades the Cougar lair for a series of three games.

Interest centers in the A team game, in which the Cougars are in third place in the standings and in which they must win if there is going to be any further argument. A victory for the Cougars will throw the A team race into a three-way tie, and a play-off series between Ione, Sutter Creek and the Cougars will be necessary.

In the B and C divisions, although the Cougars are out in front, a glance at the standings indicates that they must win their games tonight if they are going to stay out of difficulty.

Ione's entries hold second place in both divisions, and wins for the visitors will put them in a tie with the Cougars, which will make necessary another play-off series to determine undisputed leadership.

Truck With 13 Crashes Tree

Mosquito Basketeer
Feared To Have Serious Back Injury

An Army truck conveying thirteen Mosquito CCC camp enrollees from the camp to Placerville Thursday night for the regular county league basketball series, figured in an accident about two and one-half miles from camp on the Mosquito road, and the Mosquito-American Legion basketball game of the evening was indefinitely postponed.

Bill McCoy, an enrollee from San Francisco, was the only occupant of the truck to sustain serious injury and he was removed Friday to Letterman General Hospital for examination of an apparent injury to his back. There is a suspicion that a fracture may be found.

The wreck took place about 7 o'clock as the truck rounded a blind curve on the new Mosquito road and came suddenly upon a tree lying across the road. It had, presumably, been blown down during the brisk wind on Thursday afternoon and evening. The driver was able to control the truck so that it did not leave the road, and the machine is said to have been badly damaged.

Of the thirteen, with the exception of McCoy, only one other enrollee is reported to have been hurt, and his injuries consisted of bruises.

William C. Hilbert Is Taken At Sacramento

William C. Hilbert, 77, brother of Mrs. A. H. Greeley, of this city, and a brother of George Hilbert, a former county sheriff, died Thursday evening at Sacramento.

Mr. Hilbert was a native of Placerville and left here as a young man, being employed with the Western Union Telegraph Company and the Southern Pacific Company at Sacramento for many years.

The body was brought to Placerville Friday morning in the care of Memory Chapel and plans for a private funeral services and interment were being made.

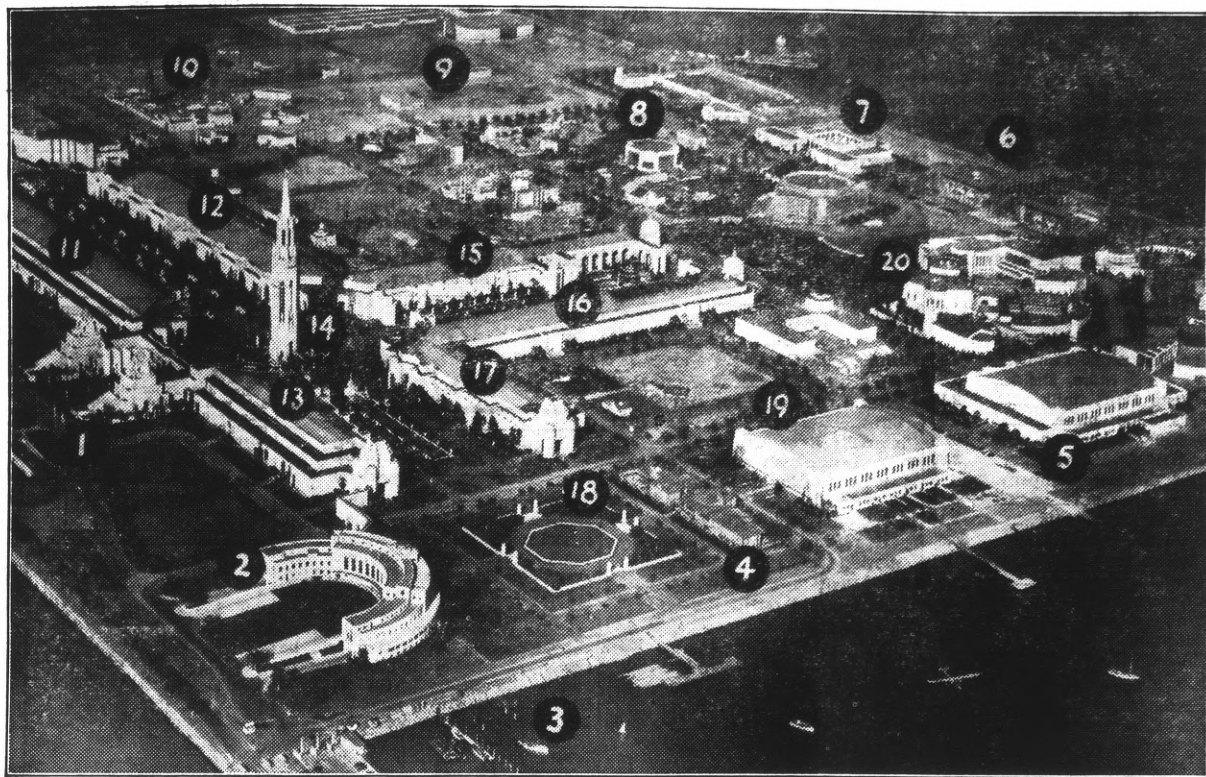

ATTENTION, DOG OWNERS

The owners of dogs within the City of Placerville to the licensing of dogs and relating to their being restrained from running at large are to be strictly enforced.

The Council has arranged to employ an agent who will call upon the owners of dogs on the question of complying with the licensing regulations, and will also devote his attention to dogs running at large.

All dogs must be licensed.
By Order of
THE CITY COUNCIL.

The Forest Service quintet climbed out of a three-way tie into undisputed second place in the standings in the regular county basketball league series Thursday night, defeating Snowline CCC camp 18 to 15.

There were only two games for the night, since the American Legion-Mosquito meeting was necessarily postponed as the result of an auto wreck while the CCC lads were enroute to town from the camp.

In the second battle of the night, the DeMolays defeated the Native Sons, 27 to 25, in a game which both clubs showed marked improvement. The Snowliners got down to business right away and at the end of the first period had the Forest Service on the short end of the count, 4 to 1. This called for a huddle in which the Forest Service determined to try to do better and did. The half ended 7 to 5 for the Forest Service.

At the end of the third period it was 16 to 9 for the Forest Service and the Snowliners got six and the Forest Service two in the final period.

Commerce Chamber To Meet Monday

The regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce for February will be held on Monday night at 7:30 o'clock at Hotel Raftles. Secretary Wallace M. Ripley was out of the city Friday and could not be reached concerning the program.

It is presumed that a review of the preparations made by the county for representation in the world's fair, and a statement of plans for the future in connection therewith, will be among the major items considered.

Mrs. B. E. Larson was hostess at her home on Bec Street Thursday evening, to the regular bi-weekly bridge club of which she is a member. The meeting, ordinarily held on Wednesday night, was put over until Thursday this time, so as to avoid conflict with the high school's band concert on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Baird of Placerville were recent guests at the Palace Hotel, San Francisco.

LINCOLN HIGHWAY ASSOCIATION PREPARES TO DISSOLVE

Service Given Nation By Members Will Be Commemorated At World's Fair July 1st;
Letter Lauds Efforts Of Road Boosters

A number of El Dorado County residents, in common with "Good Roads" workers throughout the Nation have received letters from Gael S. Hoag, secretary of the Lincoln Highway Association, suggesting that since the Lincoln Highway no longer exists, "let us make this a year of celebration and wind up our affairs."

More important, Mr. Hoag says in his letter to the various members and consuls of the association, "You have rendered a priceless service to your community and to your nation. It was you who lifted America's transit out of the dark ages."

These letters and this tribute have been received by a number of our county citizens, whose names we shall not now attempt to enumerate.

Rather than publish a partial list of those in this county who have contributed to the achievement of good roads as pioneered by the Lincoln Highway Association, we are going to suggest that either someone endeavor to compile a list of their names, or that they send in their names to us;—those of the living, and we shall endeavor to complete it.

Guy E. Wentworth is the present Consul in Placerville for the Lincoln Highway Association, and we are indebted to him for the following statement, which calls attention to "Lincoln Highway Day" at the San Francisco Fair on July 1, when the association will hold a meeting and celebration.

The statement says:

COURTHOUSE TO CLOSE SATURDAY; STORES REMAIN OPEN

County offices will be closed on Saturday, observing the day as a state holiday by proclamation of Governor Olson. However, some of the county officials indicated they will probably take advantage of the day to work behind closed doors, catching up on their work.

The bank will be closed, also the title company office. Principal stores will remain open for business. The Farm Advisor's office will be open as will the postoffice and forest headquarters.

City officials had made no announcement concerning their plans for the city hall at this writing.

Henry Garibaldi, of Plymouth, was a business caller in Placerville on Friday.

Ranger Raleigh Bryan was at Auburn Friday on matters of personal business.

Since the Lincoln Highway Association was organized in 1913, a tremendous development of paved highways and automotive equipment has altered the habits and horizons of every American citizen. In business life and in recreation, he is a different man with "Good Roads" a fact, no longer a slogan.

Figures released by the American Automobile Association prove this. In 1914 there was hardly a mile of pavement, as we know it today, in America; last year there were more than one million miles. Motor vehicle registration increased from 1,711,339 to 29,705,220 during the same period, and motor vehicle mileage increased one hundredfold—to the staggering figure of 178,555,000,000 miles in 1933.

America's total expenditure for motor vehicles and equipment was estimated at $750,000,000 in 1914.—Last year, this item in the national budget had reached another staggering total—$4,377,728,000. A new American industry.

Between these extremes lies an expenditure of about $300,000,000 on the public roads, with benefit to every community in the nation. Spark plug for all this was the Lincoln Highway Association, a transcontinental organization of "Good Roads" enthusiasts who improved their district roads, and built a careful structure of public opinion that brought America its superlative highway system.

They got results, and their results are honored by an article and a two page spread of photographs in The (Continued on page 3)

Arnold Weber Attending Fair Festivities

Arnold Weber, associate forester on Eldorado Forest, left Friday morning for San Francisco to attend a series of special events in connection with the opening on Saturday of the Golden Gate International Exposition.

Acquaintances report that Mr. Weber, as past president of the California State Ski Association, will be the speaker tonight at a dinner of the Union League Club.

"Web" is also one of the judges for the international ski jumping championships which will be held at the exposition grounds on Saturday night.

Miss Marion Pierson, who is attending business college at Sacramento, is home for the weekend with her parents, Councilman and Mrs. James K. Pierson.

Mrs. Harry Reasdale and Mrs. A. L. White were callers from Lotus Friday morning, attending to business matters.

Shuman Home Destroyed

Residence, Packing
Shed Burned; Shift
In Wind Saves Barn

The two-story residence and adjoining packing shed, owned by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Shuman, of the Cold Springs district, were destroyed Thursday afternoon by a fire of undetermined origin.

The breeze which blew during the afternoon and evening fanned the flames and defied the efforts of the family, assisted by neighbors, to control the blaze and a call for aid from the state Division of Forestry station at Mt. Danaher proved unavailing because the fire crew was away on other work.

Friends report that a fortunate shift in the wind made it possible to save the barn on the property, but that the only articles saved from the home were a few pieces of furniture and the clothing the members of the family wore at the time the fire was discovered.

It is reported that the fire took place about 4 o'clock.

AUTO MACHINIST NAMED TO DIRECTORATE OF REO COMPANY

LANSING, Mich. (UP)—Guy Hack, who spent 25 years as a machinist in the Reo Motor Factory before he was elevated to the company's board of directors, proposes that every automobile firm include a labor representative on its board.

Hack also is president of the Reo unit of the United Automobile Workers Union.

"General Motors, Chrysler and the rest of them should elect a union representative to their boards," declared Hack. "It would lead to better relations and solution of mutual problems by labor and industry."

During Reo reorganization proceedings in federal court at Detroit, Hack pleaded that the workers' interest in the company's future was so great that they should be given a representative on the board.

Reo stockholders accepted the idea as sound and left a place for a labor man on the new board which was elected by court order. Hack was elected to fill the position in a secret vote by the company's 800 employees. He holds no stock in the company.

George Volz To Speak On National Net-Work

Details of the occasion are being worked up and we hope within a few days to be able to report in more detail on the event which brings our townsman into the national limelight for the moment.

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—A promise of sunshine and a threat of a traffic jam were forthcoming today as San Francisco and the entire bay area joined in celebrating the opening tomorrow of the $50,000,000 Golden Gate International Exposition.

$100,000 FIRE IN PASADENA

Business Block Guttled,
Seven Homes Destroyed
As Wind Fans Flames

PASADENA (UP)—An early morning fire, fanned by a high wind, which for a time threatened heavy damage to the Pasadena business district, was brought under control today with the loss of a block of business buildings and about a dozen residences. Preliminary estimates placed the damage at $100,000.

The entire fire-fighting equipment of the city was thrown into the battle against the blaze, aided by three pumping engines from Los Angeles, two from Glendale and one from Alhambra.

A wind, estimated by firemen at 30-mile gale, which had been blowing for two days, fanned the flames. The blaze gutted virtually all the one and two story business houses for one block on Colorado street, the city's main thoroughfare, between Michigan and Chester streets, and jumped to the residences back of that block towards Green street.

A milkman whose identity was not learned played "Paul Revere," driving his truck from house to house and awakening people in the residences threatened by the flames. After all had responded to his call, the milkman resumed his deliveries. Seven homes were destroyed by the blaze.

FIREMEN PRAISED FOR EXCELLENT WORK ON THURSDAY

Praise for the excellent work done by the Placerville Volunteer Fire Department in controlling the Thursday fire at the old Carpenter residence was voiced Friday by persons living on Bedford Avenue near the scene of the blaze.

The firemen are credited with proceeding in their attack upon the flames in a professional manner and in such fashion that the hazard to adjoining property was minimized because, despite a brisk breeze which was blowing, the firemen were able to prevent sparks from being carried off the burning building.

Some of the residents of the vicinity state that they personally heard officers of the department issuing orders as to how the fire might be best controlled and that this, and the manner in which the firemen carried out the orders, indicates that Placerville may well take great pride in its volunteer fire department.

That the fire presented a bad situation which was handled competently and efficiently, there is no doubt.

A. A. CALDWELL RITES TO BE ON SATURDAY; DIED THURSDAY

Funeral services will be held at Turlock on Saturday for A. A. Caldwell, 70, father of Duncan K. Caldwell, of Placerville, and a past grand commander of Knights Templar in California, who died on Thursday.

The elder Mr. Caldwell was a former state senator from the district embracing Riverside, San Bernardino and Orange counties and was a civic leader in Turlock where he founded the Turlock Gas Company. He was a son of Edwin Caldwell, prominent in early California mining history.

Mr. Caldwell had been ill three weeks of a heart ailment and the son returned to Placerville late Wednesday night from a trip to his bedside and received word Thursday morning of his father's passing.

Duncan Caldwell will leave Saturday to attend the funeral. In addition to the one son, Mr. Caldwell's wife survives.

found themselves gripped by even more last-minute excitement than fair officials hopefully had anticipated.

With the weatherman's announcement that bright sunshine and warm temperatures would prevail over the week-end, it was estimated that as many as 300,000 persons would jam the mid-bay island site of the fair on the first of 288 days the great "Pageant of the Pacific" is to run.

Just how many of those who wish to attend opening-day festivities would get on the fair grounds was another question. Ferry boats and the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge were geared for capacity loads.

Exposition traffic officials asked all possible cooperation from motorists riding over the bridge to the island and made final arrangements to speed up parking in the space provided for 12,000 cars.

As a safeguard in the event the parking lot fills up, huge "thermometers" were to be erected along the approach to the bridge and at other points showing how many more cars could be taken care of.

Ferry boats plying from the old Ferry Building direct to the island and return were placed on "double time" speed in the hope that all could be taken back and forth despite a record attendance.

Throughout San Francisco, the east bay and down the peninsula, the fair fever struck young and old alike. Costumes depicting cowboy days, gold rush days, Spanish days and, in a few instances, a (Continued on Page 3)

Philbrick's Report Told

Investigator Charges
Corruption Influence
In Two Sessions

SACRAMENTO (UP)—A special report on state legislature graft prepared by Howard Philbrick, prosecutor for the Sacramento County grand jury, was released today. It charged that ample evidence was produced by the jury's recent investigation "to show that corruption, direct and indirect, influenced the course of legislation, notably in the sessions of 1935 and 1937."

The report charged that California lobbyists in some instances had established a "secretive" "fourth branch" of government "overriding the legislative, executive and judicial branches."

The report made these recommendations, among others:

1.—Indictment of C. P. Cregan, auditor of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees, for alleged perjury before the Sacramento county grand jury.

2.—That grand jury testimony by William H. Neblett, Los Angeles attorney; Louis B. Mayer, film magnate, and William C. Sullivan, associate of Neblett, be referred to the Los Angeles and state bar groups.

In connection with the I. A. T. S. E. investigation and testimony pertaining to it, the report said:

"The grand jury be justified in returning an indictment against Mr. Neblett and others for the crime of soliciting a bribe and conspiring to solicit a bribe."

Post Demonstration By Conservation Service

How to turn nearly worthless willow, cottonwood, alder and the sapwoods of oak, pine, cedar, or the Douglas fir into fence posts or poles almost as durable as heartwood cedar is the subject of a demonstration by the Soil Conservation Service, according to H. M. Lumsden, Placerville project forester.

This method, which was worked out by the Forest Products Laboratory of Madison, Wisconsin, is known as the tire-tube method of fence post treatment for the reason that pieces of discarded inner tubes are used in the applying the chemical. The method is fully described in a bulletin which may be obtained from Ivan G. Lacey, El Dorado county farm advisor.

Blairs School re-opened Monday morning after being closed last week because of the snow storm. On Tuesday the children enjoyed a Valentine party. Doris Hennings acted as "postmaster" and distributed the Valentines to all the children. This was also the occasion of the monthly birthday party, Earl Parkhurst being the only February child.

Friends of Mrs. Sadie Mathes, now of Redding, will be interested in learning that she is now recovering after being seriously ill with pneumonia. She returned home recently from the hospital but is not yet able to return to her work.

Summit Notes

The majority of the social activities of the past ten days were postponed, due to inclement weather. The basket supper, which was scheduled for Saturday, February 11, has been postponed indefinitely, probably until the early part of March. The Dramatic Club has not been able to meet for some time, but will begin rehearsals again on Thursday, February 16. All active members, please attend.

The pupils of the Summit School held a Valentine party on Tuesday. The Valentines were all deposited in a large box and distributed by four of the pupils, acting as postmaster and postmen. Later on, cake and cocoa was served and several boxes of home made candy passed around. Valentine cakes were made by Mrs. Clara Rank and Mrs. R. W. McCoy, who assisted the teacher in serving. Mrs. H. H. Bradford was unable to attend, but sent over a lovely cake.

The Pleasant Valley Grange was unable to hold the regular meeting in Tuesday, February 7, but will meet on Tuesday, February 21, if the weather permits.

COLOMA NOTES

Saturday Evening Post for February 18. "The Lincoln Highway is little more than a memory, but it has left its achievement—a network of paved and dustless highways, known by numbers," says The Post's article, written by Lawton Wright. "Primary trunks are express boulevards, black or white. Secondaries are smooth curves, snuggled into the mountain slope or raised safely above the desert floor."

"Two World's Fairs at San Francisco, spaced 24 years apart, point the contrast. Fifteen thousand motorists came west in 1915 to the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, in five or six thousand cars... and many of them shipped their cars home."

"Some 2,600,000 persons, 65 to 70 per cent of all non-resident visitors, probably will enter California in 650,000 automobiles for the Golden Gate International Exposition... which opens this week on San Francisco Bay. They will find on Treasure Island a parking area which will hold, at one time, 12,000 cars—double the year's cross-country total for the 1915 World's Fair. Most of them will enter San Francisco over the $80,000,000 Bay Bridge or the $35,000,000 Golden Gate Bridge, the two greatest highway structures in the world. They aptly symbolize the change that has swept over Western highways since 1915," continues The Post article.

The Lincoln Highway grew out of an organization which hoped to build a "coast-to-coast rock highway" between New York and San Francisco in time for the 1915 World fair. This year there is a world's fair at each terminus of the completed "rock highway" and the Western world's fair on Treasure Island has set aside July 1 as "Lincoln Highway Day" to honor the pioneers who paved America. Former Lincoln Highway officers, directors, and consultants will drive to San Francisco to view the completed achievement.

County Gold Display To Fair Friday

El Dorado County's display of gold nuggets, which will be on exhibition at the world's fair, was transported to Treasure Island Friday morning by Secretary Wallace M. Ripley of the Chamber of Commerce, who has had charge of assembling the exhibit.

Sheriff George M. Smith and Deputy Ralph Jones escorted Ripley to Treasure Island.

drunken daze, added splashes of color to all streets and virtually all persons on the streets.

Topping off today's festivities will be an illuminated parade shortly before the island will be fully illuminated for the first time tonight.

It will take place on a signal from a peal of bells from the 44-bell carillon on the island and will be actuated by rays of the sun trapped in Bombay, India, and sent here by shortwave. At 10:30 here it will be high noon in Bombay.

As the toll of bells is heard a switch will be thrown turning on 1,400,000,000 candle power. The island will be bathed in light through an illumination system which cost $1,500,000 and embodies many new methods and effects.

The fair will be opened to the public at 8 a. m. but will not be officially opened until Gov. Culbert L. Olson turns a jeweled key in ceremonies attended by city, state and federal officials.

At noon the fair will be dedicated in a nation-wide radio speech by President Roosevelt from the U. S. S. Houston, anchored off Miami, Florida.

Olson Clamps Down On Use Of State Cars

Refrigerator Rolls

The dough for rolls may be made and set in the refrigerator to use in small quantities, as desired. Soften a yeast cake in one-fourth cup of lukewarm water. Scald two cups of milk; add to it five-eighths cup of fat and a half cup sugar. When cooled, add the yeast, two teaspoons salt and eight cups of sifted flour. Stir until the dough no longer sticks to the sides of the dish, then turn onto a lightly floured board and knead until the dough is soft, smooth and elastic. Grease a large bowl, turn the dough around in it to grease the top and prevent it from hardening, cover with a clean cloth and let the dough rise.

When the dough has doubled in bulk, pinch it to let out the air bubbles and cut off enough for biscuits. Work this into biscuit shapes and leave in a warm place to rise again before being baked. The remainder of the dough is shaped into a ball, greased all around, and set in the refrigerator where it may be kept at least a week. For variation one may add egg, cinnamon or raisins.

The Gas Stove

A most disreputable looking thing is a neglected gas stove, and it is a task to clean one. The first move is to turn off the gas at the main supply pipe, with a monkey wrench. Have on hand plenty of hot, strong soap suds to which you may add a little washing soda. Remove all detachable parts; racks, dripping pan, doors, grates and burners. Soak these in the suds while you brush frame and wipe it dry.

"COWBOY AND THE LADY" WINS APPROVAL OF EMPIRE PATRONS

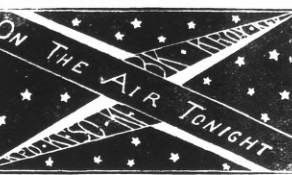

With Gary Cooper and Merle Oberon as the stellar attractions in a swiftly moving modern-day story, combining high comedy and impelling drama, Samuel Goldwyn's "The Cowboy and the Lady" was last night presented on the screen of the Empire Theatre and won the praise of a large audience.

The suspended tale of a Washington society girl who gambles position and fortune to marry a sun-browned cowboy of the far west, after a unique meeting at a Florida rodeo, is dramatized with telling effect against beautiful backgrounds. The story maintains a rapid pace throughout, and is highlighted by scenes of rich comedy and sparkling direction.

Tommy Kelly stars in the second feature "Peck's Bad Boy at the Circus." This show ends at Saturday. Sunday brings a new show with Janet Gaynor, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and Paulette Goddard featured in "The Young in Heart." This picture will be shown Sunday and Monday.

The reading room at the church building is open Tuesday and Friday from 2 o'clock until 4 o'clock.

"Lo, this is our God; we have waited for him, and he will save us: this is the Lord." These words from Isaiah comprised the Golden Text used Sunday, February 12, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon was "Soul." Included among the Scriptural selections was: "I love the Lord, because he hath heard my voice and my supplications. I will walk before the Lord in the land of the living" (Ps. 116: 1, 9). The following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, was also included: "Immortality, exempt from age or decay, has a glory of its own, — the radiance of Soul. Immortal men and women are models of spiritual sense, drawn by perfect Mind and reflecting those higher conceptions of loveliness which transcend all materials sense" (p. 247).

Do Nothing to Extremes

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Feb. 19 is Amos 6:1-6; 1 Peter 2: 11, 12; 4: 1-5, the Golden Text being Romans 14: 21. "It is good neither to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor any thing whereby thy brother stumbleth.")

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

IN THE FIRST reference in the lesson, Amos 6:1-6, it speaks of people that "that lie upon beds of ivory, and stretch themselves upon their couches, and eat lambs out of the flock, and the calves out of the midst of the stall."

"That chant to the sound of the viol, and invent to themselves instruments of musick, like David; That drink wine in bowls, and anoint themselves with the chief ointments; but they are not grieved for the affliction of Joseph."

Eating the lambs out of the flock and the calves out of the stall seemed very extravagant indeed to the shepherds of Israel, whose livelihood came from their flocks. The idea of drinking wine from bowls, too, is quite extreme, as if wine glasses or goblets did not hold enough for these old wine-bibbers.

Peter begs the early Christians to be careful how they act and not to be unseemly in their talk or actions, because he is afraid the unconverted ones will not think much of the Christians. "Dearly beloved, I beseech you, as strangers and pilgrims, abstain from fleshly lusts, which war against the soul."

"Having your conversation honest among the Gentiles: that, whereas they speak against evildoers, they may by your good works, which they shall behold, glorify God in the day of visitation."

In other words, Christians are to set a good example to those outside the church, so that they may the more readily accept the teachings of Jesus.

Temperance, of course, does not mean just abstaining from alcoholic drinks. It means that we should not eat too much or speak hastily and without thought, or do anything to excess. In the days of the disciples and before that there was not the danger in drinking too much or eating too much that there is today. Food was simple for most of the people, and they worked hard outdoors with primitive tools, and needed more food to keep them warm and fit. There was not the danger to others, either, when persons drank too much that there is in this machine age, when one befuddled with drink may run someone down in his automobile, or get himself killed because he is too unsteady upon his feet and cannot think fast enough to get out of the way of train or speeding auto. Or, working with machinery, a man may get himself caught and badly hurt.

There are so many more ways in which a drunken person today may injure himself and others that it is wise to "look not on the wine when it is red," as the Bible says. Statistics prove that drunken drivers and drunken pedestrians cause far too many accidents.

In Proverbs 23:20, it says: "Be not among the winebibbers; among riotous eaters of flesh; For the drunkard and the glutton shall come to poverty; and drowsiness shall clothe a man with rags."

And in verses 31 and 32 of the same chapter it reads: "Look not upon the wine when it is red, when it giveth his color in the cup, when it moveth itself aright."

"At the last it biteth like a serpent, and stingeth like an adder." Considering all the misery excessive drinking brings, would you not think that men and women would abstain? Homes broken, children without proper food and clothes because a parent spends the money on drink.

Jeremiah, the ancient prophet, tells of taking some young men to a house and setting wine before them, and saying unto them, "Drink ye wine."

"But," they said, "we will drink no wine; for Jonadab the son of Rechab our father commanded us saying, 'Ye shall drink no wine, neither ye nor your sons forever'."

HONOLULU, T. H., (UP)—If Ferdinand the Bull had a speck of sense he would come to Honolulu, Ferdinand just THINKS he has smelled flowers. One arrival at this island anchored in the middle of the Pacific and he'd have a garden to sniff for every single bloom there is in Spain.

The gangplank is no more than fastened to the incoming ship, binding the mainland with this American island, than hundreds of persons swarm up to it laden with leis of every kind of flower there is in the horticultural handbook and every color that even a Cecil DeMille could imagine in a rainbow.

There are leis of Bougainvillea and Mauna Loa, of Plumeria and Wild Pikake, of White Ginger, Tuberosa and Lehua of Carnation, Crown Flower, Candle Flower, Maile and Gardenia.

One by one, then two by two, and finally, six by six, they are draped about your neck. One minute you are a normal citizen in a decent blue serge suit, the next you are a mobile flower patch that would bring "ohs and ahs" from any garden club member.

As the flowers are draped about you a Hawaiian band on the pier plays No Lei O Hawaii or "The Song of the Islands." To a country boy from Georgia who thought he was something real pert when he had a single flower in his button-hole a Hawaiian welcome is something he'll never forget. The flowers, the music, the multi-hued clothes of the welcomers, the smiles on their faces, the blue of the ocean, the murmur of the palms—all go to make a picture of unreal reality.

A traveler to Hawaii is welcomed first by Koko Head, a green-carpeted volcanic mound that takes shape in the early morning mists when the ship is still two hours from Honolulu. On past Koko a bend to the right and there is Diamond Head, its feet sprawled in the breaking surf, its head aswirl in the clouds.

Waikiki Beach, the world's most celebrated strip of sand, begins at the foot of Diamond Head and runs its palm-fringed way toward Honolulu and its distant towers of white.

The punchbowl (on whose grassy slope Charlie Chan lived and solved his mysteries) rises beyond Waikiki; and on beyond the punchbowl is the Pal, the mountain ridge over which King Kamehameha drove the enemy when he conquered the islands.

As I write this I am sitting on a Lanai (which until today I didn't know meant veranda) which overlooks Waikiki Beach. Not over fifty yards away the long Pacific rollers are curling on the beach and through the palm fronds I can see the piano-colored native boys riding in from the reef on their surfboards.

eight. Cotter and Liddicoet contributed three points each and Bill Cumming, who took a hitch at the center position, got himself two field baskets for a total of four points.

For Snowline, Willis and Vickers hooked six points apiece, Wilfong got two and Winstad was confined to a free throw.

In the second contest of the night, the Native Sons led 6 to 4 at the end of the first round but half-time found the DeMolays ahead, 12 to 8. It was 21 to 18 for the Native Sons at the end of the third period and in the final set-to, the Native Son took four, which was not enough to offset nine for the DeMolay.

Casebeer was high point man of the night with eleven for the Native Sons. Butts got eight, Baer four and Quiberg two.

Gardner, with ten, was second high point man of the night and topped the DeMolay scorers. Beal got six, Palmer 5, and Royer, Kirkland and Smith two each.

The Legion-Mosquito game will be re-scheduled.

League officials have announced that the games which were scheduled to be played on February 7th, and which were postponed from that date, will be played on Monday night, February 20th. These games are: Mosquito vs Texaco; 20-30 vs De Molay and Snowline vs Cougars.

The regular Tuesday night schedule will send the Twenty-Three club against the All-Stars, De Molay against Texaco and the Cougars against Mosquito.

Church Social Group Met On Wednesday

Additional members at the meeting, other than those mentioned above included: Mesdames Dee Naurkus, Nellie Curtis, Lela Vaughn, George Lindsey and Lewis Miller.

The Butte County almond pool of 430 tons of nuts was sold for $150,000.

Come on Duke, it will feel natural to be back in the hands of the sheriff again.

Household Hint

A good grade of wax polish is used by one housewife to keep the enamel surface of her refrigerator in good condition. She uses the same wax for small articles, such as picture frames, candlesticks, window sills, and even leather. It saves time in cleaning, she says.
